Coming here in 1869, long before Emerson was thought of, he homesteaded the farm he now owns four miles east of town. For many years his place was the half way point or last stopping place between Sioux City and Norfolk. A sturdy pioneer in every sense of the word and for years one of the substantial and successful farmers of northeastern Nebraska. He lived on his homestead until about fifteen years ago when he moved to Emerson. The deceased was born in Mendorf Steoknitz, Germany, July 17, 1829. He spent five years in New Zealand and Australia, as a miner, and his son Charles now wears a ring that was made from gold taken from his own mine over half a century ago. In 1858 he was married to Catharina M Lohning, in Germany, he a short time after coming to America, working around Omaha and Fremont and after sending for his wife in 1869 came to this section of Nebraska. The Homer bloodhounds were taken to Naconda on Friday and put on the trail of some thieves, who broke into a residence house the night before and got away with $50 worth of silver. The hounds followed a trail as far as Emerson and lost it. Sherman Loomis spent Christmas at home with his parents, west of town. Sherman is now located at O'Neill, working for the Burlington as a helper. He is also learning the telegraph business and says he is getting along nicely and can send nearly all messages by wire, but cannot receive his best yet. On last Saturday evening, at a late hour, Cahl Patterson, a farm hand, worked a smooth game on several of our business men. He had several bogus checks made out to himself, bearing the name of J W McTaggart, but in fact were forged checks. Fred Goff, the proprietor of the Home-Like restaurant, cashed one for $5.00, and Sherman McKinley, the judge, repeated the same dose. An effort is being made to capture Patterson and if caught he will be dealt with according to law. Patterson has been in this vicinity for the past three years.

Sioux City Journal, 3rd: John Rhode, of Naconda, Neb, marketed nineteen steers which averaged 1,341 pounds and sold for $8.00, the top of the market. Mr Rhode had the cattle on corn and alfalfa for about three and one-half months. He was well satisfied with the sale and says he intends to put some more cattle on feed very soon. Thomas Green, 76 years old, pioneer brick manufacturer and president and general manager of the Sioux City Brick and Tile works until its consolidation with the Clay Products company last fall, died Thursday night at Tampa, Fla, where he had gone in quest of health. News of his death was conveyed to the family in a telegram received by Mrs Hubert Everist, a daughter. Death resulted from hardening of the arteries. He had gone to Tampa December 1 in hopes that the warm climate would benefit him. Mrs Green and daughter, Benetta, were at his bedside when he succumbed. Mr Green suffered a relapse New Year's day and O F Green, vice president of the Sioux City Brick and Tile company, and Thomas W Green, son, had started to the bedside. They were notified of their father's death while enroute to Tampa. A telegram received from O F Green stated he would proceed to Chattanooga, Tenn, where he would meet the funeral party. Thomas W Green, who was at Corpus Christi, Tex, is expected to come direct to Sioux City. The body probably will arrive in Sioux City Monday morning. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made. Besides the widow, the sons O F Green and Thomas W Green, and daughters, Mrs Everist and Benetta, two other daughters survive Mr Green. They are Mrs William Billey, of Des Moines, and Mrs Ella Green, of the Convoy of the Sacred Heart, Philadelphia. Mr Green was born in Ireland in 1837 and immigrated to this country with his parents, Mr and Mrs Patrick Green, and settled in Taunton, Mass. The elder Green was a farmer in the old country and, desiring to get a farm of his own, he moved his family to Dixon county, Neb, and took a claim on South creek, near Ponca, in the spring of 1857, six months before the land was surveyed by the government. The son stayed with his parents until the following spring, when he left home. He went to St Joseph, Mo, staying about a year, and then to Natchez, Miss. At these two places he learned the trade of brickmaking. While working at Natchez the civil war broke out and Mr Green entered the Confederate army, in which he served until taken prisoner at Mission ridge. The prisoners were taken to Rock Island. Mr Green was among the 8,000 collected there at the time. A regiment was organized for service on the plains against the Indians. It was called the Third United States volunteer infantry. Mr Green was sergeant of Company B in this regiment, and served until honorably mustered out in the fall of 1865. He went to Denver, Colo, in 1865, and resumed his old business of manufacturing brick. He, in partnership with a man named Watkins, burned the first brick ever made in Boulder City, Colo. After varied experiences of success and reverses in Colorado, Mr Green came to Sioux City in the spring of 1869 and went into the brick business near Greenville. The plant was located back of the old Greenville house in Second street between Charles street and Fairmont avenue. Dwellings now have been erected on the site of the brick works. In November, 1886, Mr Green with F Hoyt, H Huertth, O R Marks and W M Stever organized the Sioux City Brick and Tile Works, one of the largest brick plants in Iowa. The output of the plant was never less than 1,000,000 bricks a month. Mr Green, at the time of the incorporation, was treasurer and superintendent of the plant. Later he assumed the presidency and general management. Last fall he retired from the company when it was consolidated with the Clay Products company. The company operated kilns at Springdale and North Riverside. Mr Green was married May 3, 1876, to Miss Helena O'Connor, daughter of Capt O'Connor, of Homer, Neb. He was a member of the Catholic church and was a republican in politics.

PERILS AMONG FALSE BRETHREN

St. Paul's Experiences Duplicate the Master's.

Jesus' Footstep Followers Wounded in the House of Their Friends—The Philosophy of the Matter—How to Receive Such Experiences—Why They Are Permitted—The Results They Serve—Special Perils Today.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Ottawa, Ont., March 30.—Pastor Russell, who since his last visit has many friends here, arrived again this morning. As usual, the largest auditorium was engaged for him. We report one of his addresses, from St. Paul's words: "Perils among false brethren." (2 Corinthians 11:26.) He said: St. Paul was fully devoted to the Master and His cause. His faithfulness brought many trying experiences. He served Christ to such an extent that many counted him a fool. Those who opposed his teachings often raised a tumult and blamed him for it in order to bring him into disrepute. Nevertheless, he rejoiced in all such experiences. None of these things moved him from faithfulness to his Master, whose servants he had persecuted before his eyes were opened. He recounts various perils from robbers, from Jews, from heathen, in the city, in the wilderness, on the sea. He winds up the list with the words of our text, "perils among false brethren."
